ADVISEMENTS – PLEASE READ

- Loveland, Colorado is at a high-altitude (6000 ft above sea level.)
- Due to the high altitude, please ensure your hounds AND you are in top physical condition.
- Sunscreen and lots of water are strongly recommended.
- The field is NATURAL TERRAIN tending to be dry, uneven ground with a few patches of plants, goatheads, and some rocks. Care is taken to remove rocks and holes from the path of the lure. This is NOT a manicured lawn.
- The ground can be hard, packed dirt depending on whether it has rained recently. Sandy soil is also present.
- Be sure to check your dog's feet frequently for goatheads, and the condition of their pads.
- You and your dogs will NEED more water than you think is normal due to the altitude, dry conditions, and lack of humidity.
- We do our best to patch holes in the ground from the various wildlife; as well as remove rocks from the path of the lure. Participants are encouraged to help walk the field BEFORE the trial to patch holes.
- June can be VERY hot in Colorado. We will provide water and pools to cool your dog. You are encouraged to bring your own as well.
- Because Sunrise Ranch is in the foothills of the Rocky Mountains, weather can be inclement. We recommend bringing rain gear, warm jackets, hiking boots, gloves, hat, and clothing for cooler weather.
